Re: In re Bernard L. Madoff, Investment Securities, LLC, Adv. Pro. No. 08-01789; Irving H. Picard v. Wilenitz, Adv. Pro. No. 10-04995 (SMB)

Dear Judge Maas:

I submit this Joint Letter with the Trustee on behalf of Defendants represented by this firm ("Defendants") pursuant to the October 4, 2016 Order referring certain discovery matters in the above-captioned liquidation to Your Honor, (ECF No. 14227), and the March 15, 2017 Order entered by Your Honor (ECF No. 15236). Defendants make this application to compel the Trustee to share access to the BLMIS Database with Defendants and to sanction the Trustee's counsel for failing to comply with two court orders and failing to produce documents essential for the defense of these actions.

I. Defendants' Position

A. The Trustee's house of cards

When Madoff confessed, there were 5,312 account holders who presented the Securities Investor Protection Corporation ("SIPC") with the possibility of its having to pay out SIPC insurance of $2.65 billion pursuant to the express provisions of the Securities Investor Protection Act.¹ This amount greatly exceeded the total amount in the SIPC insurance fund because, from 1996 on, the members of SIPC had fixed the annual contribution to the SIPC fund (to insure every customer's account up to $500,000 based on the customer's last statement) at $150 per year per firm. Thus, from 1996 through March 2009, every SEC-regulated broker-dealer was able to assure its customers that their accounts were insured against the dishonesty of their broker up to $500,000 based on their last statement for a cost, per firm, of $150 per year.

Obviously, SIPC's members had not fulfilled their obligation to maintain an adequate insurance fund. Since SIPC could not cover the Madoff customer losses, it had two choices: (a) to assess its member firms to cover the statutory liability; or (b) to vastly diminish the customer pool entitled to SIPC insurance. The Trustee and SIPC embraced the second course of action and the Trustee obtained the approval of the Second Circuit for his unique definition of "net equity" as the net investment of the customer, over generations. As a result, many customer claims were disallowed entirely because the customers were cruelly deemed to be "net winners." And even as to the "net losers," their entitlement to SIPC insurance was reduced by the netting out process. The Trustee pulled off this remarkable coup by representing to every court before which he appeared – and to the customer body and the general public – that Madoff/BLMIS never purchased any securities for his investment advisory customers and that these customers' funds were never used to purchase securities. We now know that these representations were totally false. However, the Trustee has resisted for two years in producing the evidence of his dishonesty. We are writing to request an order compelling the Trustee to give Defendants' access to the entire BLMIS Database which, to date, the Trustee has refused to give us access to. With such access, we will be able to match up securities in Madoff's/BLMIS' inventory with securities on Defendants' statements.

B. The Trustee has been repeatedly ordered to produce all trading records

The Trustee goes to great lengths to deny access to Madoff's/BLMIS' trading records, despite multiple court orders requiring their production and despite his having a duty to investigate the Debtor and disclose to the entire creditor body the facts relating to the Debtor's fraud. See 15 U.S.C. §§ 78fff-1(d)(3) (a SIPA trustee shall "report to the court any facts ascertained by the Trustee with respect to fraud, misconduct, mismanagement, and irregularities" of the debtor). Your Honor has already recognized that Madoff's trading records are highly relevant and they go to "significant" legal issues in these cases, i.e., the calculation of Defendants' Net Equities and thus their clawback liability. (See March 15, 2017 Order, ECF No. 15236 at 2). As Judge Bernstein indicated to the Trustee on June 29, 2017, there are "two orders directing you to turn over the documents." (See June 29, 2017 Transcript at 74:14-15, Ex. A) (emphasis added).

Judge Bernstein always made it clear that the Trustee has an obligation to produce all of Madoff's trading records. (See, e.g., May 17, 2016 Transcript, Ex. B, at 69:19-22) (THE COURT: "Well, if the Trustee has additional documents, he's got to supplement the disclosure or the production, which he does by adding them to the data room"); (see also id. at 68:12-12). Your Honor has likewise ordered the Trustee to produce all trading records. (See January 7, 2017 Order, ECF No. 14807 at 3) ("To the extent there are any additional relevant records of securities trading that have not been made available . . . through Data Room 1, they must promptly be produced.").

During the December 13, 2016 hearing in front of Your Honor, the Trustee represented that he would produce all trading records. (See December 13, 2016 Transcript, Ex. C, at 145:23-146:5) (MR. JACOBS: "We will look for and have been looking for stuff – any additional stock trading records as to earlier period of time . . . to the extent we find them or restore them or can obtain them from DTCC or any other method, we will produce them to you and will put them in the data room. Absolutely."). The Trustee made similar representations during the January 5, 2017 telephone conference with Your Honor. (See January 5, 2017 Transcript, attached as Ex. D, at 30:14-16) (MR JACOBS: "If it's a trading record, if it's a BLMIS trading record of securities having been traded, we will produce it.").

C. The Trustee promised to share access to the BLMIS Database

Defendants have been requesting Madoff's trading records for well over two years now and the Trustee has been representing either that he has already produced all trading records or that he will do so. (See, e.g., Defendants' August 29, 2016 motion to compel the Trustee to produce trading records, ECF No. 13962). Both representations were false. On November 14, 2017, I met with Mr. Sheehan and Mr. Shifrin at their office to discuss the specific documents we were seeking. I explained that, as I have always said, we want production of all third party documents evidencing the purchase, sale or custody of securities by Madoff and/or by BLMIS for the entire period from 1980 on. Mr. Shifrin promised to produce these documents. However, what the Trustee did, instead, was only produce third party "bank" account records that the Trustee had subpoenaed. Obviously, we did not request "bank" account records. We requested trading records. Moreover, since banks generally keep records for only six years, this maneuver allowed the Trustee to continue to conceal all trading records, from 1980 – 2008, that are in the BLMIS data base and only produce six years of "bank" records.

At a meeting with the Trustee's counsel and all defense counsel on June 5, 2018, Mr. Sheehan finally agreed to give defense counsel access to the BLMIS database. (See July 25, 2018 Transcript, attached as Ex.E, at 26:13-15) (MR. BELL: "In the context of that discussion, the BLMIS database came up and Mr. Sheehan did represent that the Trustee is certainly open to producing that database."). Sharing access to the BLMIS Database would finally allow Defendants to access Madoff's trading records, which the Trustee has deliberately concealed. It is the obvious solution to the Trustee's deliberate concealment of material evidence and yet, after finally making this offer, the Trustee rescinded his promise and indicated that he would not give all defense counsel access to the BLMIS data base.

Moreover, giving defense counsel access to the BLMIS Database does not impose any burden on the Trustee's counsel (unless he wants to remove documents and continue to conceal them). On July 25, 2018, Defendants raised this with Judge Bernstein, who granted permission to either file a motion or make this application to Your Honor. (See id. at 24:20-21) ("So, with respect to these trading records, just make a motion or go back to Judge Moss [sic]"). Since July 25, 2018, we have made attempts to gain voluntary compliance by the Trustee. Those attempts have proven fruitless. See, for example, my September 14, 2018 letter to the Trustee's counsel annexed hereto as Ex. F.

We ask Your Honor to order the Trustee to give the Defendants complete access to the BLMIS Database. The relevance of the trading records is obvious and multiple court orders require their production. Moreover, there is simply no basis for the Trustee to suggest that Defendants should have to share the financial responsibility of granting them access, particularly in view of the Trustee's violation of several court orders and the fact that SIPC and the Trustee have expended over $2 billion in this proceeding – as much as it would have cost SIPC to comply with the SIPC insurance requirements of SIPA. Instead of the money going to the BLMIS customers, as a result of the Trustee's dishonesty, at least $1 billion of SIPC money has gone to the Trustee's law firm. Yet, the Trustee continues to conceal material evidence.

D. The Trustee should be sanctioned

Under Rule 37(b)(2), the Trustee is obligated to pay the costs of production and, in addition, to pay the Defendants' reasonable attorneys' fees in seeking the Trustee's compliance with two court orders. See Fed. R. Civ. P. 37(b)(2) (if a party "fails to obey an order to provide or permit discovery. . . . the court must order the disobedient party, the attorney advising that party, or both to pay the reasonable expenses, including attorney's fees, caused by the failure") (emphasis added); Intertec Contracting v. Turner Steiner Int'l, S.A., 2001 WL 812224 at *11 (S.D.N.Y. July 18, 2001) ("[F]ailure to comply with discovery orders justly allows the court to impose costs upon the failing party The Second Circuit has repeatedly emphasized the importance of complying with discovery orders of the Court, warning that '[a] party who flouts such orders does so at his peril.'") (citation omitted). See also Moore's Federal Practice § 37.50[1][a] ("[A] court should not permit the moving party to suffer net economic losses as a result of another party's violation of a discovery order."). While the Trustee's law firm is paid handsomely by SIPC for concealing material evidence, the Defendants have been forced to expend whatever little money they have left to try to force the Trustee to comply with his obligations under the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure. The Defendants are entitled to be compensated for their legal expenses.

II. The Trustee's position

Ms. Chaitman requests an order compelling the wholesale production of approximately 30 million documents—a collection comprising every hard-copy and electronic document recovered from the operative floors of BLMIS headquarters at the Lipstick Building. Ms. Chaitman makes this application without any regard to relevance and proportionality considerations, and without using the detailed indices, long produced by the Trustee, providing a comprehensive itemization of all the BLMIS data in the Trustee's possession (i.e., beyond what is in the BLMIS Database). Because this request fails to comply with Your Honor's most recent March 15, 2017 order on the same subject of "trading records" (the "March 2017 Order"), Ms. Chaitman's request should be denied.

A brief history of this dispute is necessary to adequately contextualize Ms. Chaitman's instant application and, unfortunately, correct the multitude of falsehoods it contains. On May 17, 2016, Judge Bernstein held a pre-motion discovery conference on Ms. Chaitman's proposed motion to compel. At that conference, the Court went through each of Ms. Chaitman's discovery requests in an attempt to resolve the dispute, but the Court nevertheless permitted Ms. Chaitman to file a motion. The motion was filed on August 29, 2016. After fully briefing the motion, the parties referred the dispute to Your Honor for arbitration, which took place on December 13, 2016 (the "December 2016 Arbitration"). Notwithstanding Ms. Chaitman's efforts to mischaracterize this conference by taking certain quotes out of context, the Court did not "order" the Trustee to produce anything. Indeed, if it had, Ms. Chaitman's motion and the subsequent arbitration would have been completely unnecessary.

Your Honor, however, has issued certain orders on this issue, and the Trustee has fully complied with them. On December 15, 2016, in accordance with Your Honor's directives during the arbitration two days earlier, the Trustee sent Your Honor and Ms. Chaitman a letter detailing the steps the Trustee would take to identify the pre-1992 "trading records" Ms. Chaitman requested. In that letter, the Trustee noted that he had identified 95 records from the pre-1992 period related to the National Securities Clearing Corporation ("NSCC"), an affiliate of the DTCC. In addition, the Trustee stated that he ran searches for "Depository Trust" and "National Securities" across the approximately 30 million records in the BLMIS Database and would immediately produce the 16,042 responsive documents. The Trustee also explained that he had identified 167 reels of microfilm that potentially contained records from these earlier periods, and that he would restore and search those documents for additional DTCC or NSCC records. Finally, the Trustee agreed to produce two comprehensive and searchable indices: an index of hard-copy materials stored at the BLMIS Warehouse (the "Warehouse Index") and a separate index of electronic media (the "Media Index"), which together reflect the entire universe of BLMIS data in the Trustee's possession. Ms. Chaitman never objected to these measures.

After the Trustee completed these productions, Ms. Chaitman filed a second motion to compel additional pre-1992 records without specifying the documents she was seeking or what she thought the Trustee was withholding. Nevertheless, in a good faith effort to provide Ms. Chaitman with everything she was interested in, the Trustee voluntarily produced, while the motion was still pending, the following additional materials: (i) the balance of the documents that were restored from the 167 microfilm reels described above; (ii) all documents restored from 34 additional reels with pre-1992 labeling that he had since identified; and (iii) all documents responsive to 147 search terms applied across the approximately 30 million records in the BLMIS Database. The Trustee explained that he based the 147 search terms on internal BLMIS reports reflecting purported trading activity that he identified in BLMIS's books and records.

Critically, based on these efforts by the Trustee, Your Honor denied Ms. Chaitman's second motion to compel on March 15, 2017, as memorialized in the March 2017 Order. The order directed Ms. Chaitman to: (i) use the indices the Trustee had produced, which he recognized "should enable Ms. Chaitman to formulate more focused requests for trading records;" (ii) "send the Trustee's Counsel a letter specifically identifying the additional documents Ms. Chaitman seeks to have produced, and where she believes they may be found;" and (iii) "confer in person regarding Defendants' request for BLMIS trading records." Id. at 6. If the dispute persisted, Your Honor directed the parties to send "a joint letter . . . detailing their remaining areas of disagreement." Id. Your Honor concluded by reminding the parties that Fed. R. Civ. P. 26 "requires that discovery requests be limited to items that are relevant to a party's claims or defenses and proportional to the needs of the case." Id. (emphasis in original).

For over a year, Ms. Chaitman has not only ignored this order, but has actively tried to circumvent it. First, Ms. Chaitman improperly raised this dispute with Judge Bernstein, demanding in June of 2017 (in connection with the Madoff "Day 2" Deposition briefing) that the Trustee restore all 5,300 available microfilm reels, which Ms. Chaitman falsely stated the Trustee had never disclosed (a request the Court denied after learning of the March 2017 Order). At the same time, and further ignoring the detailed procedure set forth in the March 2017 Order, Ms. Chaitman demanded that the Trustee produce millions of documents responsive to 22 broad search terms based on well-known financial institutions, such as "Barclays," "Morgan Stanley," and "Fidelity." The Trustee repeatedly reminded Ms. Chaitman of her obligations under the Order, explained that the production of millions of irrelevant documents was beyond the scope of

The Honorable Frank Maas September 20, 2018 Page 6

Fed. R. Civ. P. 26, and informed her that over one million of these documents were already available to her in E-Data Room 1. As such, the Trustee requested that Ms. Chaitman use the already available documents to narrow her search terms and invited her to meet and confer pursuant to the March 2017 Order. For months, Ms. Chaitman refused these offers.

The Trustee nevertheless continued to seek compromise with Ms. Chaitman, eventually agreeing to produce documents responsive to two of her 22 search terms—a step the Trustee did not need to take given Ms. Chaitman's failures to comply with the March 2017 Order or otherwise meet and confer. Recognizing that such broad search terms retrieved largely irrelevant documents, Ms. Chaitman finally agreed to meet and confer with the Trustee on November 14, 2017 (the "November Meet and Confer"), but never sent the Trustee the letter Your Honor directed her to send, or otherwise utilized the indices she had in her possession. Instead, after insisting for months that the Trustee produce millions of irrelevant documents, Ms. Chaitman finally specified that she was only interested in third-party business records that appear to reflect any BLMIS securities ownership or trading. Contrary to Ms. Chaitman's mischaracterizations, the parties agreed that the Trustee would run certain BLMIS bank account numbers across the Rule 2004 materials in the Trustee's possession—which the Trustee obtained from various third parties in response to Rule 2004 subpoenas—and produce responsive documents. Ms. Chaitman subsequently served a formal request for production, and the Trustee served responses and objections on December 21, 2017.

The Trustee produced all documents responsive to the search terms, applying the parameters to which the parties had agreed, and thus fully complied with his obligations under the March 2017 Order. Inexplicably, Ms. Chaitman nevertheless submitted a letter to the Court requesting permission to file a motion for sanctions. At the subsequent hearing, the Court informed Ms. Chaitman that Your Honor's March 2017 Order established a specific procedure for dealing with this dispute, and if Ms. Chaitman proceeded with her motion, the Court would likely assign costs to her for failing to follow that procedure. During the hearing, Ms. Chaitman also complained—for the first time and despite written records to the contrary—that the Trustee improperly limited his search to third-party records without including the separate BLMIS Database. Despite the fact that Ms. Chaitman remained out of compliance with the March 2017 Order, and in a good faith effort to resolve this dispute, counsel for the Trustee affirmatively contacted Ms. Chaitman (hours after the hearing) and informed her that the Trustee would run the exact same search terms across the BLMIS Database and produce all responsive documents to her, which the Trustee produced in June of 2018. The Trustee also reminded Ms. Chaitman that his investigation and review of the documents in the BLMIS Database is ongoing, and to the extent he identifies any additional records that appear to reflect BLMIS securities ownership or trading in the course of that investigation, he would supplement his productions.

In total, since the December 2017 Arbitration, the Trustee has produced approximately 270,000 documents and 4,800,000 pages—including the restoration and production of all documents stored on 206 microfilm reels. Indeed, the Trustee has fully satisfied his obligations pursuant to the parties' agreement at the November Meet and Confer and the March 2017 Order. Conversely, Ms. Chaitman has never even referenced the Warehouse and Media Indices she has had in her possession for nearly two years, let alone used them to make any targeted and informed requests for additional documents consistent with Your Honor's directives. Your Honor should therefore deny Ms. Chaitman's request for 30 million documents as inconsistent with both the March 2017 Order and Fed. R. Civ. P. 26, and also deny her motion for sanctions.²

² While the Trustee offered to make the BLMIS Database available, those representations were made during meet and confer discussions with multiple defense counsel in an attempt to reach a compromise and consensually resolve the multiple discovery-related issues raised by the Trustee's outstanding motion for an omnibus proceeding to address the nature of Madoff's Ponzi scheme. Those meet and confer efforts were unfortunately unsuccessful, and the related offer to compromise was withdrawn based upon the failed negotiations. Moreover, in advance of this submission, counsel for the Trustee again invited Ms. Chaitman to meet and confer to resolve all outstanding issues, but Ms. Chaitman refused.

Page 68 1 BLMIS bought 100 shares of IBM and 50 shares show up on 2 Wilenitz. 3 MR. JACOBS: Right. 4 THE COURT: Who's to say he didn't actually own 5 that stock? 6 MR. JACOBS: I would love to be able to --7 THE COURT: Which I guess would be relevant to his 8 net equity claim or his claim in the SIRA case. 9 MR. JACOBS: I wish I could give you a 10 satisfactory answer but in the time that we have today, I 11 can't replicate the report of our expert, which, in 12 painstaking detail goes through all of the reasons why we 13 believe there was never a security traded in connection with 14 the fraudulent Ponzi scheme being operated and the IA business. 15 16 THE COURT: So, how does she test that conclusion? 17 MR. JACOBS: She tests that conclusion the same 18 way our expert does, by examining the underlying records. 19 All of those records again have been made available to Ms. 20 They're in the data room. Those other records 21 are expert reports. 22 THE COURT: Maybe that's the answer. If there are records -- because they do have the DTC records, at least 23 from the period when Wilenitz was investing. If the records 24 25 show that BLMIS actually owned something, and the same stock shows up in Wilenitz's account statement, you can make the argument that he actually owned that stock. But you can do that (indiscernible) and the information has been made available to you.

And the sense I'm getting -- and I understand that it's a lot of work -- is you want the Trustee to do this for you, but you're going to have to do this yourself if this stuff is available.

MS. CHAITMAN: You know, Judge, with 4 million pages of documents, the least the Trustee could do is specify the specific Bates Numbers. Because I don't want to be in a position where we go to trial... I mean, for all I know, the data room is updated constantly and new documents are added. How am I going to prove at trial that certain documents were not made available to me? I mean, it's impossible. Why can't the Trustee be bound to tell me these are the documents responsive to this request?

THE COURT: But that doesn't solve your problem...

Well, if the Trustee has additional documents, he's got to supplement the disclosure or the production, which he does by adding them to the data room, and maybe you have a continuing duty to check the data room.

But part of the problem is you've thrown such a broad net over what you're looking for, instead of the specific documents relevant -- that I think seem to be

1	obtained them in part from a Rule 2004
2	subpoena and part from what we restored on
3	the BLMIS DTC terminal, in part from
4	documents we got from the government.
5	We compiled all of that. It is all
6	available in a specifically labeled folder
7	called DTC. There are also folders in that
8	exact same section that are labeled "FINRA."
9	All of the categories of documents you're
10	looking for, as we've written you in letters
11	and attempted to explain to you many times in
12	the past, are actually in their own folders
13	in the data room so they can be they are
14	accessible that way.
15	Now, with respect to earlier periods
16	of the fraud, that is an allegation and an
17	issue that you recently raised in the PW
18	context pursuant to Mr. Madoff's testimony.
19	Even though it was outside the scope of the
20	order allowing that testimony, the judge has
21	now allowed a second deposition on that
22	subject.
23	We will look for and have been looking
24	for stuff any additional stock trading
25	records as to earlier periods of time in

1	addition to what is currently in the data
2	room. To the extent we find them or restore
3	them or can obtain them from DTC or any other
4	source, we will produce them to you and we
5	will put them in the data room. Absolutely.
6	MS. CHAITMAN: But see
7	THE ARBITRATOR: Let me rephrase that
8	for a second and see whether it's correct.
9	That to date, except to the extent
10	that they may be in DTC records or FINRA
11	records in that data room, you haven't found
12	any other records?
13	MR. JACOBS: We're currently looking.
14	Because it's an active issue that
15	Ms. Chaitman has raised in the PW context in
16	discovery. There's a deposition scheduled
17	for December 20th where Mr. Madoff will give
18	additional testimony as to those issues.
19	And clearly we are going to want to
20	respond, if we can to meet with the debtor's
21	books and records that are available. So we
22	are actively looking for that material.
23	THE ARBITRATOR: December 20th is

- 1 MR. JACOBS: We are -- we are
- 2 right now using the search terms that I
- 3 disclosed in my letter in December to identify
- 4 any records or reports that reflect securities
- 5 trades having been conducted historically at
- 6 BLMIS for any point in time.
- 7 MS. CHAITMAN: Okay. So when you

- 9 not putting -- we're not putting in any evidence
- 10 of these trades, you're not distinguishing among
- 11 trades, right? I mean, you're putting all the

- 17 MS. CHAITMAN: Okay. Okay. So,
- 18 you know, on that I guess the only concern I
- 19 have, and I'm not sure that it's something that,
- Judge, you ought to consider right now, but we
- 21 have scheduling orders in every case for fact

1 ALSO PRESENT TELEPHONICALLY:	1 Based on the progress that the parties had made
2	2 during the course of their negotiations, as of the last
3 KEVIN H. BELL	3 hearing, the Trustee expressed optimism that we would be
4 PATRICK MOHAN	4 able to enter into a revised consensual order. And the
5 JOSHUA TUCKER	5 objecting parties agreed with the Trustees the Trustee
6 DAVID J. SHEEHAN	6 and acknowledge the progress that the parties had made to
7	7 date.
	8 Subsequent to the hearing, Your Honor, the Trustee
9	9 sent a revised proposed order to the Defendants. That is
10	10 the order that is now before the Court. And the revised
11	11 order, as I stated before, we refiled a pretrial order
12	12 because we significantly limited and it indicated the
13	13 substantial overhaul and changes between the initial order
14	14 and the revised order.
15	The Trustee's counsel had a meeting with
16	16 Defendants with the objecting Defendants, where it was our
17	17 hope that we would continue in the same vain as the initial
18	18 rounds of discussions, making progress towards a consensual
19	19 order.
20	20 At the meeting, as reflected in our reply papers,
21	21 the objecting Defendants informed the Trustee that they
22	22 could not agree to the order because as a threshold matter,
23	23 discovery was closed in a majority of their cases and the
24	24 fact, of course discovery renders this proceeding
25	25 problematic.

And at that time, the Trustee reported that since receiving the Defendant's objections, the parties had been engaged in negotiations seeking to streamline the issues for the Court. More specifically, the parties were engaged in discussions about a consolidated proceeding that would address discovery	Page 9 In the Defendant's view, the only cases that could proceed on this consolidated basis would be cases where fact discovery is open under the CMO. The Trustee obviously THE COURT: How many of those? MS. BELL: There are about seven or so cases, Your Honor, and I'll go through those categories in just a moment. But there are seven cases in the Trustee's view that are open with under the existing CMOs. The Trustee disagrees with Defendant's position, and we decided to file a motion or a reply just in accordance with the Court's directive at the last hearing, that that reply be put in by July 18th. The day before the filing, the Trustees received - the Trustee received comments to our proposed order, and those comments highlighted and confirmed how far apart the horizone were. In the Trustee's view, we've accommodated and we've sought to accommodate the Defendant's position vis-à- ac

Re: Securities Investor Protection Corporation v. Bernard L. Madoff

Investment Securities, LLC, Case No. 08-01789 (SMB)

Third-Party Trading Records

Dear Max:

I am writing in response to issues that have arisen in your communications with Agatha Cole of my office. Contrary to your email dated September 12, 2018 to Agatha, the Trustee has not produced all third-party trading records responsive to our requests.

As you know, when we met at your office on November 14, 2017, you and Mr. Sheehan agreed to produce all third party trading records evidencing trades/ownership of securities, whether House 5 or House 17, dating from 1960 on (the "Trading Records"). The Trading Records would include, but not be limited to, trading confirmations, brokerage account statements, custodial account statements, delivery receipts, and any other such documents that reflect any securities transaction or ownership to which Madoff/BLMIS was a party at any time since 1960.

At the November 14, 2017 meeting, you expressed concern as to how you could identify the Trading Records when you searched the 30 million pages of documents in the BLMIS Data Base. I suggested to you that you simply search using the unique account number that Madoff/BLMIS had with each institution from which it purchased securities or had a custodial relationship. You said you thought that was a great idea. Indeed, the very next day, you emailed me:

After consulting internally, we have identified a list that we created of BLMIS account numbers with various banks. We can apply those search terms across our third party records to get a preliminary idea of what kind of universe of documents that would yield. That way, you don't have to go digging up those numbers yourself.

You have not produced to me the list to which you referred and I would ask that you do that immediately.

The third party records fall into two categories: records the Trustee obtained by subpoena from a limited number of firms (the "Subpoenaed Records"); and records that Madoff/BLMIS maintained themselves. We need both sets of records because the Subpoenaed Records in general do not go back more than six years from 2009 when the subpoenas were served. In order to assist you in complying with this request, Mr. Kratenstein and I emailed you a chart (the "Chart") listing institutions that we know Madoff/BLMIS did business with. This list is not inclusive; it is only what had been identified by us. Indeed, the Trustee's expert, Lisa Collura, produced a much more extensive list of the firms with which Madoff/BLMIS did business. That list is attached hereto for your convenience. Obviously, we need all Trading Records for every firm identified by Ms. Collura.

But, even as to the much smaller list of trading partners that we gave you, you told us you did a search of the firms listed on the chart and you sent the chart back to us with a new column on the right hand side showing the number of "hits" in the BLMIS database:

"Westminster Bank"	2,726	3,265	78
NBNA	295	326	138

Despite our repeated requests, you have refused to produce to us the documents constituting the hits on this list. And, of course, you have never given us a list of the number of hits you would have if you searched for the Trading Records of every institution identified by Ms. Collura. This is one reason why we need complete access to the BLMIS Data Base.

In addition, even as to the Subpoenaed Records that you claim you have fully produced to us, the evidence indicates that you have withheld a substantial volume of documents. To take just one example, although "Morgan Stanley" was among the search terms, and although the Trustee claims to have produced all documents responsive to those search terms within the Subpoenaed Records, the index of Bates prefixes that you provided to us two weeks ago includes at least 3 separate document sets produced by Morgan Stanley that have never been turned over to us (e.g., MSYSAA, MSYSAC, and MSYSAF).

Thus, we are still seeking the same Trading Records that we demanded in 2016 and that you and Mr. Sheehan expressly promised to produce on November 14, 2017.

Finally, I know Agatha has explained to you that the E-Data Room structure does not permit us to search for documents. We need to have all of the Trading Records, including the Subpoenaed Records, in one data base that we can search. We are able to set up our own data base with respect to the documents you have produced to us but the structure of the E-Data Room, as I have explained to you, makes it impossible for us to save our searches. We can't even print out the documents. We have to write to someone in your firm and make a specific request that specific Bates numbered documents be sent to us. This makes it impossible for us to do the work necessary to prepare for trial. Thus, we ask again that you lift all user restrictions that prevent us from employing the saved search functionality in Relativity, which includes the option to create and save searches based on specific fields that are already visible to us.

Yours sincerely,

Helen Davis Chaitman
